

Net Zero for Churt

Churt News in Nature Winter 2023

Published by Churt Environment Working Group

See www.churtzero.org for more news

Sudden branch drop

Many mature trees this year responded to the hot dry summer weather with auto-amputation. This one is in the churchyard.

Merveille du Jour (Griposia aprilina)

One of our most beautiful moths which flies in September/October and feeds on ivy flowers and berries.

Prolific Fungi

A 'garden' of them on Churt's Recreation Ground.

Stunning Autumn Colours

this year at the Canadian Memorial Planting at Bramshott.

Frensham Great Pond on a still October evening

Wet Autumn weather

resulted in some boggy patches on the Flashes.

The Moat in November sunshine

But where are the waterfowl? Could Avian flu be taking a toll?

Late December and January rainfall resulted in high levels on the River Wey at Tilford

Frensham Little Pond

in the early December cold snap

Frozen fountains and webs in December

Photo credits:
Dawn Barrow, Mark Lawson, Suzy Mallinder, Brian Johnson, and Myra Johnson

Please email your nature observations and photos to churtenvironment@gmail.com to publish in future editions.